

2020 New York Conducting Workshop May 31 - June 6, 2020

Maestros John Farrer, Dirk Brossé, Toshiyuki Shimada

Maestro Salvatore Di Vittorio, Artistic Director

All Participants Are Eligible for The Respighi Prize in Conducting

Winner Conducts at Carnegie Hall

Finalists Conduct at Adelphi University Performing Arts Center

Our one-of-a-kind program has been founded in collaboration with the prestigious London Conducting Workshop. We offer conductors of all ages the opportunity to reflect, discuss, and refine their podium experiences with veteran mentor conductors.

The New York Conducting Workshop is a truly unique learning experience:

- Four maestros providing instruction and feedback;
- Work with a fully-professional orchestra, Chamber Orchestra of New York;
- Candidacy in an international competition – The Respighi Prize;
- Digital video recording of your conducting;

- Opportunity to conduct in concert at Carnegie Hall or Adelphi University Performing Arts Center.

Workshop Staff

John Farrer: Music Director Laureate, Bakersfield Symphony; Director, London Conducting Workshop

Dirk Brossé: Music Director, Chamber Orchestra of Philadelphia; Professor of Conducting & Composition, Royal Conservatory of Music (Belgium)

Toshiyuki Shimada: Music Director, Yale University Symphony Orchestra

Salvatore Di Vittorio: Music Director, Chamber Orchestra of New York

The New York Conducting Workshop will be held at the Adelphi University Performing Arts Center (AUPAC) in Long Island on May 31 through June 6, 2020. AUPAC is located 13 miles/21 km from JFK Airport and 27 miles/43.4 km from Carnegie Hall in New York City.

Workshop Schedule

May 31 – June 2: Workshop Sessions

June 3 – June 4: Orchestral Rehearsals, also with Winning/Finalist Conductors

June 5: Dress Rehearsal and Concert at Carnegie Hall's Weill Hall

June 6: Dress Rehearsal and Concert at AUPAC

The workshop has a maximum of 20 participating conductors and additional auditors.

The first day begins with a morning Welcome Coffee Reception, followed by a session on baton technique. Each participating conductor will receive daily podium time and is required to attend every workshop session, rehearsal, and concerts. Ensembles include string orchestra for the first two days, and chamber orchestra for the third day.

Session times will be shared via email with all confirmed candidates. Complimentary tickets for all conductors (participants and auditors) will be given for the two concerts.

All Participants automatically become candidates of THE RESPIGHI PRIZE IN CONDUCTING. The winner will conduct selected movement(s) of a work at Chamber Orchestra of New York's season finale concert at Carnegie Hall's Weill Hall on June 5, 2020. Finalists will conduct selected movement(s) at Adelphi University Performing Arts Center on June 6, 2020.

Orchestral Repertoire

Limited Time Offer:

We will provide a 30% discount code for the new hard cover version of David Daniels' indispensable conductor's catalog ORCHESTRAL MUSIC - EDITION 2015.

Comments from former Participants:

"I loved this workshop! The staff conductors were devoted teachers, determined to see everyone improve and aspire to their highest potential. The orchestra was highly skilled, quick to respond, and generous in spirit throughout the process. I also enjoyed having a veteran artist agent share his thoughts on the profession. Thank you for the experience to learn and grow." – Caleb Wenzel

"It was really helpful and rewarding. it's very valuable for conductors and a great opportunity to learn from a fine orchestra and experienced mentors." – Luis Segui

“Thank you for putting on a such beneficial and inspiring workshop. I have gained a lot and I am excited to keep working on bettering my conducting using everything I learned.” – Yudai Ueda

“Conducting the Chamber Orchestra of New York was a magical experience! Learning from Maestros Salvatore Di Vittorio, Dirk Brossé and John Farrer was priceless! This New York Conducting workshop is highly recommended, I am leaving with my pockets full of new ideas and sparks for conducting!” – Alana Chan
